Activities

1. Two Truths and a Lie: Have students write down two true statements and one lie about themselves. Then, have them read their statements to the class and have the class guess which statement is the lie.
2. Twenty Questions: Have one student think of a person, place, or thing. The rest of the class can ask up to 20 yes/no questions to try to guess what the student is thinking of.

3. Pictionary: Divide the class into teams. Have one student from each team take turns drawing a word or phrase on the board while their team tries to guess what it is.
4. Charades: Similar to Pictionary, but instead of drawing, students act out the word or phrase.
5. Simon Says: Give students commands, such as "Simon says touch your nose" or "Simon says jump up and down." Students must only follow the commands that start with "Simon says."
