- Be patient with your horse. Horses are intelligent animals, but they need time to learn. Don't get discouraged if your horse doesn't understand something right away.

- Be consistent with your training. Horses need to know what you expect of them. If you are inconsistent with your training, your horse will become confused and frustrated.
- Be positive with your horse. Horses respond well to positive reinforcement. Praise your horse when he does something right, and avoid punishing him when he makes a mistake.
- Be gentle with your horse. Horses are sensitive animals, and they can be easily hurt if you are too rough with them.
- Be respectful of your horse. Horses are not machines. They have their own thoughts and feelings, and they deserve to be treated with respect.
